

Code of Conduct

Christian STEM Education Group (CSEG) is dedicated to glorifying God through a Christ-centered homeschooling community that fosters spiritual growth, academic excellence, and mutual respect.

Biblical Values and Behavior

- Christ-like Conduct: Act with love, kindness, and integrity (Colossians 3:12-14). Interactions should reflect the fruits of the Spirit (Galatians 5:22-23).
- Integrity: Act honestly and uphold biblical standards in all dealings, including communication, commitments, and responsibilities within the group (Proverbs 12:22).
- Language: Use speech that is edifying, avoiding gossip, slander, profanity, or any language that dishonors God or others (Ephesians 4:29).
- Conflict Resolution: Resolve conflicts biblically, seeking reconciliation (Matthew 18:15-17).
 - For conflict between student and director:
 - If conflict occurs, first speak directly with student.
 - If conflict occurs again, speak with parent(s) and have them sit in class with student.
 - If conflict is still not resolved, ask student to leave class for the day.
 - If conflict still exists, student may be asked to leave the program.
 - If a student is asked to leave the program no refund will be given, so please prayerfully consider if CSEG is right for your family.
 - For conflict between parent and director, I (we) agree to participate in a recommended conflict resolution plan. The initial step in this plan is to go directly to the Licensed Director to discuss the situation in person and alone.

Participation and Responsibilities

- Active Engagement: Engage actively, fulfilling roles diligently (Colossians 3:23).
- Punctuality and Preparedness: Arrive on time and prepared.
- Supervision of Children: Parents are responsible for supervising their children during weekly programs, ensuring they follow the Code of Conduct and respect property, peers, and adults.

Academic and Spiritual Commitment

- Support for Homeschooling: Encourage one another in the pursuit of academic excellence and spiritual growth, sharing resources and ideas to strengthen each family's homeschooling journey.
- Faith-Based Focus: Incorporate biblical principles into group activities, such as classes, field trips, or social events, to nurture faith in students and families.

Code of Conduct

- Parental Authority: Respect the primary role of parents as their children's educators and spiritual leaders, supporting rather than undermining their authority.

Communication

- Clear and Respectful: Communicate respectfully using proper channels.
- Confidentiality: Respect members' privacy by asking for permission before sharing anything outside the group, and represent the group positively online. This helps maintain relationships, resolve conflicts, and demonstrate love and respect. (Proverbs 25:9)

Dress and Appearance

- Modesty: Dress in a manner that reflects biblical modesty and respect for the group's values, ensuring clothing is appropriate for all activities (1 Timothy 2:9-10).

Compliance with Policies

- Group Rules: Adhere to all policies established by CSEG, including those related to membership, fees, attendance, and event participation.
- Legal Compliance: Comply with local and state homeschooling laws and regulations, ensuring accountability as Christian homeschoolers.
- Discipline: Accept guidance or correction from group leadership when necessary, understanding that decisions are made prayerfully for the group's benefit.

Accountability and Consequences

- Leadership Authority: Group leadership reserves the right to address violations of the Code of Conduct through warnings, mediation, or, in extreme cases, dismissal from the group, always seeking restoration where possible.
- Parental Responsibility: Parents are accountable for ensuring their children understand and follow the Code of Conduct, addressing any behavioral issues promptly.
